Keymacro automatically converts any text file to a searchable text file. It is designed to make searching a text file as easy as using a dictionary. Keymacro is fast, lightweight and easy to use. Now you can restore the database of any song list, which you have created using Karaoke Song List Creator. Please note that the application does not create a copy of the entire song list. Instead, it contains a single (or a few) song list from the user's computer and the software is able to restore this existing list. The database (or, file) is saved in XML (excel) format, so you can open it with almost any XML compatible software. The software can be started in two ways: either through the setup file or directly from the program window. The program is configured to be used in one of two ways. If you select the default option, you will see a new window on your screen, where you can load or create your favorite song list. If you select the second option, you will see a new window on your screen, where you can restore a database (or a file) from a folder. The newly loaded song list will appear in the main window. The program runs on a moderate amount of CPU and system memory, and includes user documentation. We have not come across any problems during our testing; it did not freeze, crash or pop up error dialogs. However, the interface could have been better organized.
