KEYMACRO is a freeware application that simplifies the process of encrypting and decrypting data. Its main function is to enable users to encrypt and decrypt text in their messages, files, applications, and other data. In addition, it provides for the protection of data by means of a password, so it can help to keep information safe. Although it lacks any type of help system, its user interface can be simplified even more. All in all, though, the application is fairly functional and works as it is intended to. It is mainly a useful tool for those who encrypt data in real time, as well as for those who want to encrypt text stored in their documents, emails, and messages. What is the difference between KEYMACRO Encryption and Encryption? KEYMACRO encryption creates a code that is unique to each text and/or data, which must then be used to restore the original message. In other words, it is possible to decrypt and encrypt the same message simultaneously, as long as they have different encryption codes. On the other hand, encryption is a type of security method used to protect data from unauthorized access. It enables you to encrypt any type of data, such as passwords, images, sound, and files. This process is performed through a random code generated by the program. How to Encrypt a Text You can encrypt any message using this software. To perform this process, simply select an encryption code and then paste your message into the text box at the top of the interface. The application will then display the contents of your message in a new window. KEYMACRO features can be used to encrypt: Text messages Voice recordings PDF documents Text files Images Applications Documents E-Mail messages Download KEYMACRO Full Version and Encode & Decode with 256 bit AES and 3, 14, 28, 42, and 56-bit RSA Keys If you want to encrypt data, but you do not want to risk losing it in case of data loss, then you can use KEYMACRO Encryption's features to encode and decode data. When you encode data, it is removed from the original format and replaced with a new format. Once this process is complete, the data can be easily decoded by means of the right code. KEYMACRO encryption can be used to encode data in the following formats: Word 2003 / 2007 Excel 2007 / 2010 Word 2007 / 2010 PowerPoint 2007 / 2010 77a5ca646e
