So I used display:none to the div and display:block to the image. But when I click on page 2, the image is still there. I already looked at a lot of other questions, and tried to apply the solution there, but it did not work. I'm using this code to link the images to the page: And this one to display it: `$(document).ready(function() { $("#imageDiv").click(function() { $("#imageDiv").hide(); $("#imageBlock").show(); }); });` And this one to set the link: My images are on my
