There is growing interest in conducting cost-of-illness analyses to assess the economic burden of diseases in the Netherlands. In a macro-costing approach, all direct costs of CVD in the Netherlands were included. In addition, the extent of resource use for CVD that was not included in the macro-costing was assessed by a micro-costing approach. In the macro-costing, total direct costs of CVD in the Netherlands were estimated at €1.4 billion in 2004. This estimate included direct costs for hospital, primary, and outpatient care, and private costs. In the micro-costing, CVD-related direct costs that were not included in the macro-costing were estimated to be €142 million. The Top 25 most downloaded tracks from the V.N.O.
