Hi, I'm developing an application and I needed to set the background color of the Application Bar. The app bar has been set to transparent, but I can not find a way to set the background color. It seems like the styles are not there anymore... I used the xml file below to set the color. Please help! Thanks for your kind answer. The problem is that when I set the application bar to transparent in xaml, it still takes the default background color. I tried to set it to white using the following XML code:

The KEYMACRO control is a Keyboard Macro for the Windows Phone. It allows you to attach keyboard shortcuts to any text, label, check box or other control. DESIGNERS' CHOICE This control is the flagship control of the set. This control has been used in a lot of applications because it can be used with any control and it is very powerful. The usage of this control is really simple. You just have to create your own Windows Phone controls, assign KEYMACRO to them and then you can use the same keyboard shortcuts that you are using in desktop applications. Applications using this control are very simple and they can be seen in different areas such as control lists and web pages. Example of using this control: This is some text... The control can be used by adding the following attributes: LeftContent: The label text, Content: The Keyboard Macro to be assigned and UseLabel: If true the control will be displayed with the keyboard shortcut. OVERRIDE: Setting this to true will prevent the control to be added to a control hierarchy. PROPERTIES TO BE PLUGGED: LeftContent: String property of the control, Content: String property of the control, UseLabel: Boolean property of the control. NOTIFICATION OF KEYBOUNDARY: This control allows you to specify if you want to send a notification about the keyboard being pressed, that's something that you can't do with any other control on Windows Phone. PREVIEW OF APPLICATION: You can preview how the control is placed in the application by using the FormatPreview property. Setting this to true the control will be placed in the bottom left corner of the application 1d6a3396d6
