What's New in the Advanced Flash Player?

Advanced Flash Player offers the most powerful movie player available on the Web for Mac, Windows, Linux, iPhone, Android, Wii and other devices supporting SWF videos. It supports all Adobe Flash media, including FLV and SWF video, Flash video and FLA animation, as well as various Flash audio files, including MP3 and WAV. Just drag and drop your video files to the window and you'll be watching them in no time. Of course, you can also enter a Flash video URL, but if it is a Flash video, the program will automatically scan your hard drive, find the file and play it. You can also play both FLV and SWF movies by double clicking them in the window. To exit the player and return to the editor window, you should drag the movie file or press the Exit button in the menu bar. Advanced Flash Player supports a movie library, allowing you to add your own Flash files, so you can manage your videos anywhere on your hard drive. Each added file will be stored in the library automatically and the program will display the number of frames per second and the estimated length of each movie. Advanced Flash Player is a powerful program and it can open most of the video files found on the web. However, Advanced Flash Player lack a bit of flexibility; for instance, it does not support drag and drop.

Its 'simple' user interface is divided in two sections: the movie window and the sidebar, which shows controls for browsing your video library, setting the video size, opening a FLV video URL, playing FLV and SWF movies, setting the screen and audio playback options, and playing images. Advanced Flash Player takes advantage of your video playback library. When you search your drive for compatible SWF files, the program will automatically load and play them in the main window. Just double-click on a movie to play it, or drag and drop it into the window. You can also play Flash video. To get started, enter a Flash video URL in the 'URL' field or select a video file from your hard drive.

Advanced Flash Player is a powerful and simple video player; it allows you to play Flash video files from your hard drive, the internet or a URL. You can pause, reload, fast-forward, play, zoom in and out or change the image quality. You can also view image files and play them. To open an image, drag-and-drop it to the program window, or enter a URL to play

---

System Requirements For Advanced Flash Player:

You may need to update your BIOS and/or GPU driver to make sure that your system will be compatible with these new drivers.
