Saturn Disk Image Creator is a great disk image software application that can turn virtually any folder on your computer into an ISO file. It's a very intuitive software tool that can be used by anyone without any special skills, and it's capable of working on multiple sources simultaneously. You have the possibility to choose between two different ways to build a disk image file: using a wizard or selecting files manually. This tool also comes with a set of useful features, such as a multi-clicking support, the ability to define virtual drive letters, the creation of multi-layer ISO images, and a file-by-file, folder-by-folder browsing mode. Once you have saved the settings, you can even create an ISO image with a single click. This is definitely one of the most interesting aspects of this product, since the entire process is very easy to follow and extremely fast, and it can even be done from a remote machine. Moreover, Saturn Disk Image Creator has the ability to manage its settings and view information about your disks in a very user-friendly way. It's also capable of working with most popular disk formats, such as FAT32, NTFS, HFS+, exFAT, APFS, UFS, and ISO9660. As a bonus, you can even use this tool to manage a Mac computer's disk image files, if you have a PC running Windows. Everything to create an ISO image: Once you've downloaded Saturn Disk Image Creator, you'll be asked to specify a folder. From there on, you'll only have to follow a few easy steps in order to generate an ISO file. A wizard will then appear, asking you to select the destination folder, the size of the created disk image, and the type of file system. After selecting those settings, you'll only need to press the 'Create' button and Saturn Disk Image Creator will take care of the rest. All you have to do is wait for the file to be created, and you'll be able to access it through a virtual drive. As you can see, this application's interface is very clean and intuitive, so there are no difficulties in using it. The main interface: Just like the first part of our review, this part is a very important one, since we'll now explain to you what you can find in Saturn Disk Image Creator's main interface. As mentioned previously, this app is an

ISO image creation software, so it comes with two utility tools, What's New in the?

Saturn Disk Image Creator is more than a simple software product developed to create disk images, it's an app that comes with a great ISO managing tools package. After installation, you get two different utilities called "Disk Image Creator" and "Disk Image Explorer", both with pretty self-explanatory names.

The "Disk Image Creator" is a fairly intuitive product that helps you create ISO image files out of any folder on your computer. It was designed as a wizard and there are only a few settings available, which means you only need to follow a few steps and you're all set. This particular tool boasts an amazing ISO creation speed, but this also depends on the size of the selected files. On the other hand, "Disk Image Explorer" is a much more advanced app, capable of opening any ISO image file and showing its content. It was specifically designed to let you analyze an ISO file, as it displays files and folders, blocks and volume descriptors in a very professional way. Last but not least, it's worth mentioning that software developers can implement Saturn Disk Image Creator's API to use it as a component in any other application in order to read and write disk image files. As you can see, Saturn Disk Image Creator isn't exactly the kind of app aimed at rookies, so the lack of a help manual isn't quite a major drawback. But overall, this is an excellent piece of software for any advanced user who wants to manage ISO images in a professional way. It comprises a very interesting pack of features and a clean GUI to perfectly bring all of them in the spotlight. You are here Home » Reuters' Cuts Cut \$102,000 From Greater Grand Forks Chief's Teller

DIGIT CUTS Posted: Jun 20, 2011 ISSUED BY: Renegotiating a public contract, Reuters dropped a significant job for one of its reporters in the northern state of North Dakota.

According to the Belmont Institute, a conservative think tank, the $102,000 pay cut was due to that move. But the cuts could be good news for the greater Grand Forks community. It means the $2,876 contract that the Grand Forks Herald won will now be paid by the Press and Sun-Bulletin, a local paper published by the Grand Forks Herald. The Red River Media will end up with the contract after a good old-fashioned shakeup by its owner.
