Adobe Suite The Adobe Suite is the closest alternative to Photoshop. It includes both InDesign and Illustrator as the two Photoshop-like applications with an ebook or two based on Photoshop Elements (the earlier edition of Photoshop), and another five books covering some of its latest features and tasks. Adobe products are more expensive than Photoshop, but you can start with the software and then build your own Photoshop-like image processing operations from there.

Can we use the head of the penis as a reference for measuring penile length? Head of the penis (HOP) as a useful landmark for assessing penile dimensions has been reported widely. The purpose of this study is to examine if using HOP as the reference point for measuring penile length is consistent and reliable. This study retrospectively reviewed 207 cases of clinically normal patients with or without ED at a tertiary referral center. All the patients had their HOP-measured by a single urologist. We compared the difference of HOP-measured from the values determined by the true length of the corpora cavernosa as determined by the sonographic scan. The mean age of the patients was  $53.4 \pm 14.4$  years. The difference between HOP-measured and true length of corpora cavernosa ranged from -2.4 to +3.0 mm with a mean difference of  $1.2 \pm 0.9$  mm. Based on an interval of one standard deviation, we can accept HOP as an alternative reference point for assessing the length of the penis. Further studies with larger populations are warranted to determine whether this algorithm is accurate and reliable.  $2^N [1 + O(\lambda N 2^{-N})] \geq \frac{14}{(\lambda N)^3} \cdot 2^{3N}$ . To get the final bound, recall that, since  $\lambda > 1$  and  $\lambda$

This invention relates to an improvement in the method of forming fluid delivery tubing used in conjunction with a chamber wherein the fluid delivery tubing delivers fluid from a source to a patient. It is known that fluid delivery tubing is used to connect a source of fluid to a patient. It is also known that the fluid delivery tubing may be formed using a method wherein a fluid container is placed in a mold and heated. During the heating, the plastic material of the fluid delivery tubing is forced or pressed out of the mold by the fluid container. This method is somewhat awkward as the fluid container is placed inside the mold. The fluid container must be lined with heat-resistant material to withstand the heat of the mold. Alternatively, the mold may be lined with a heat-resistant material. In addition, it is difficult to fill the mold with the fluid container or move the fluid container into the mold when the container is placed in the mold. The fluid container must first be heated and then moved into the mold to be filled by a technician. Thus, it would be desirable to provide an improved method of forming fluid delivery tubing which overcomes some of the problems and disadvantages of the prior art methods described above.

Nitrogen regulation of nitrate reductase activity in Pseudomonas fluorescens.

Pseudomonas fluorescens strain R2 was grown in minimal medium to high (T1) or low (T2) cellular protein concentrations. In the former medium the specific activity of nitrate reductase decreased with increasing protein content, whereas in the latter medium the specific activity of nitrate reductase was independent of protein content. Isotonic conditions caused a shift of the cellular protein concentration from low to high. Nitrate increased in T2 medium, but the level of nitrate reductase activity was higher than in T1 medium. The activity of nitrate reductase was not affected by adding glutamine to the growth medium. When glutamate was added to T2 medium, the specific activity of nitrate reductase was slightly higher than in T2 medium without added glutamate. Glutamate and glutamine repressed the specific activity of nitrate reductase in T1 medium. These results show that the regulation of nitrate reductase activity in P. fluorescens is related to the cellular protein content, and that glutamine inhibits the enzyme activity in high concentrations.
