Don't forget to stop by the Official website:

A new RPG game developed by Summerslam are going to release on Nintendo Switch on August 25th. The new fantasy action RPG is called "Legend of Elden Ring Serial Key" (L.E.R). This game will be released with 55 explorable areas, over 150 kinds of monsters and with over 200 items with various features.

Summerslam's official site has details of the game and contains a trailer: As you can see there are many monsters, each has their own special attack and the game has a lot of interesting features. From the trailer it seems that the characters will have something to say during quests and battles. It seems like there will be two players but it's impossible to say for sure. Other interesting things about the trailer are that there are a lot of Blood Moons (important heralds of the upcoming destruction of the world) and the world seems to have a dark atmosphere. The map seems to be quite small in total and many areas seem to be "frozen", the company have hinted that there will be many different branches to the story line and that the player can play in many different ways. Another interesting thing is that it appears there may be trading market similar to the game "The Legend of Zelda: The Oracle of Seasons". There is a picture of a helmet like item: I know it doesn't look like much right now but hopefully there will be more details about this game in the future. What do you think of this game? RPGfanatic (8.5/10) “I found the graphics of the game to be nice and clean. The backgrounds were nicely rendered. The character models could look a bit older. However, that’s not a dealbreaker. The UI is simple to use and well laid out. All in all, I had a great time playing it.” RPGfanatic (8.5/10) “I found the graphics of the game to be nice and

GAMINGAPPSDATABASE (8/10) "Overall, the game is a good implementation of the RPG. My personal comments are that, not only are the characters nicely crafted, but the story is a really well done, epic fantasy tale, and as such deserves to be played by fans of this type of RPG. If you are looking for an excellent fantasy adventure RPG, the players that enjoy the works of Shadow of the Colossus, and The Elder Scrolls series, then I would say the game is a must play." What's new in Elden Ring:

Accompany the Lord of the Elden Ring, and find your destined mission!

Hear from Tarnished, another Elden Lord!

Tarnished: Let us begin! I'm excited for us to show off the setting that has been developed for our game!

Who is Tarnished? I'm a 26-year old man from the southern part of the Eastern Lands. I was born to a noble family. I come from a clan that was originally from Southern lands, close to the southern border with Southern lands, but since I was born in the far east, I grew up raised on special powers. I lacked excitement and any real childhood, aside from a part-time job as a courier throughout the southern lands. I learnt of the dark forces of the world from a young age, since it was a part of my upbringing. By the age of 20, I became a Dragonborn noble; a young lad who had been enhanced by the dark power of the old Craftless Void. By the age of 25, I decided that this power was too much and wished to depart from the Elite Dragonborn. With strong power, I grew bored. By the age of 30, after a botched chance at robbing a cathedral, I began to hunt down superstitious people, to steal their belief and convert them to the Craftless Void. People began to call me 'the de facto Count of Superstition.' Through a series of short-lived followers, I eventually caught my attention. In my 30s, I suddenly became obsessed with the Craftless Void. I began to go out of my way to follow any rumors of the Craftless Void. When I turned 41 years of age, I joined the Jotunn who worship the power of the Craftless Void and made my way to the Dragon Palace, the supposed home of the Craftless Void and where the Jotunn serve the God of Superstition. One day, I realized that I was being followed by someone with the strong power of the Craftless Void.

I then had reached the age of 41 and I decided to dedicate all my days in this world. I want to destroy anyone and everything that comes before me. I want to challenge others that I encounter to whatever it is that catches my interest. I can think of no better way

The incidence of cancer is increasing and the number of patients with cancer is expected to grow in Japan. As the number of patients with cancer is also increasing in Germany, anesthesiologists have to deal with this fact. Cancer patients receive anti-cancer treatments, such as chemotherapy and radiotherapy, depending on the stage of the disease and the symptoms of the cancer. When these treatments are administered, however, a thrombotic risk is increased due to the possibility of venous thromboembolism. There are some different techniques that clinicians use for anti-coagulation in cancer patients. The pharmacological and non-pharmacological anti-coagulation in cancer patients have been summarized in this review.
