Primary treatment of mild to moderate primary open angle glaucoma is reviewed, based on available data for a variety of drugs used in eye drops. The clinician can attempt to define the indication for treatment for the patient at any stage, but the decision for use of hypotensive drugs should be made only after proper diagnosis of the glaucoma and a careful evaluation of the merits and limitations of medical therapy. Hypotensive eye drops that have been shown to lower intraocular pressure with both primary open angle glaucoma and ocular hypertension are reviewed.

Q: Cannot connect to ENI- created EC2 instance I had to reboot a new instance and it went down. I have access to my AWS console and can create new instances. My problem is that when I try to connect to the new instance it says that the connection was unsuccessful. I have the no_internet, internet_connection=public, and public internet connection security group configurations. Anyone know what could be wrong? I tried it in two different ec2's and get the same results.

A: After some digging around I found that I needed to wait 1 day after creating the instance for the security group to be updated. I can only assume it is an Amazon-only issue.
