submit of the form when using bokeh.viz.js on form class? I want to show a map with bokeh.plotting.map. The map works fine but I am not able to prevent clicking on the submit button. When clicking on the submit button the map is being updated by sending a POST request. I have tried several things like setting a submit event on the submit button but that did not work. The following minimal code snippet shows a working example with a map and an input field (which I don't want to add) but with the code from the bokeh.viz.js project. HTML: Plotting the train routes

Re.Q: How to install GTCS under Ubuntu 14.04 I have downloaded the gtk-source from the official website for p5.4.2-7 I am on a 64bit machine and the version downloaded is 32 bit. What should I do? How do I get my program to work? Using pip (for package installation), I am getting: Error: Gdk-WARNING : The program 'gtcs' is required, and it cannot be started in this distrubtion A: It looks like you are downloading a 32-bit version of GTKSource. You are using a 64-bit system. So you need to install the package in a 32-bit environment. I assume your home directory is in /home// Run this sudo dpkg -i *.deb to install the package. \]
