for permissions to add the shortcuts to your tray. Concluding

Thoughts: Even if you're a Windows veteran you might find it more appropriate to use the default mixer. A lot of people prefer it. My own feelings are the best one to describe. Q: Passing a HTML element to a function in Javascript and use it in a for loop I have a problem with Javascript. I have a for loop which is being ran repeatedly. I want to pass a parameter to a function which takes as an input an HTML element, this element is being looped by a for loop. How can I access this element inside this function? This is the for loop which is looping multiple times.

for(var i = 0; i <= 10; i++) {
    logOutput.innerHTML += " ";

This is the function which I want to use the element to be

accessed. function format(data) {
  var zero = " " + 0 + "";
  if (data
    == null || data == 0) { return
    "null"; } if
