Inhibition of IL-2 production by monoclonal anti-interleukin-4 antibody in a human CD4+ T cell clone. We investigated the effect of anti-IL-4 monoclonal antibody (MAb) on cytokine production in a human CD4+ T cell clone, B7-1, which is considered as an in vitro model for Th2 response. In this model, the B7-1 clone does not constitutively express mRNA for IL-2, IL-3, and IL-5. However, mRNA for IFN-gamma, IL-4, and IL-10 was detected. Using this clone, the effect of anti-IL-4 MAb was evaluated by measuring the production of the cytokines in the presence of anti-IL-4 or control IgG. Anti-IL-4 MAb caused a dose-dependent inhibition of IL-4 production in the culture supernatants, and the IL-4 level in the supernatant was significantly (p < 0.05) lower than that in the control group.

Q: Add a column to the front end of the report I would like to add a column at the front of the report so that the first line is always the same. It should always be named "mycolumn" and filled with the value "Selected ". Is there an easier way than hardcoding the length of the string?

A: Yes, this can be done using Field Formatting. See here for an overview of the Field formatting options. To add a simple text box on the first line, the code is: [Formatted]myfield To append text to the end of the value, the code is: [Formatted]my is the reason behind this behavior? A: Setting parent(s) is a thing to be done by the ClassLoader. If you ask the ClassLoader to do it, your code will fail horribly. It is expected. In your case, the class loader tries to call your class serialization without any further Serializable rules followed. The Java Serialization framework relies on rules. You probably want to let the class
