Original Sailing Experience. Relaxing and fun. Discover Akalana Islands. Enjoy realistic sailing mechanics, audio, and interactive elements. Explore islands and their surroundings using your mouse and trackball. Use your sails to navigate through the islands. There are no goals, just explore the islands, like in real life, and relax while sailing. If you have never sailed before or have forgotten all the basics, this game will be a good way to learn how to sail, where to go, and how to control your sails. Instructions You can control your sailboat using a dedicated keyboard (discontinued) or with the Trackball (Trackball Mode). You can also use a gamepad / joystick (discontinued) Keyboard Mode You can use the arrow keys to control your boat, A to sail upwind, and S to sail downwind. Your boat will face the direction you are pressing. To steer, click on one of the map tiles. If you click on one of the map tiles while sailing, it will stop the boat and tilt it to face you. To return to upwind sailing, press A again.

Trackball Mode Click on the map tiles to steer. Pressing A will allow you to set the destination. If you set a destination to the right, your sailboat will sail to the right. If you set a destination to the left, your sailboat will sail to the left. If you set a destination to the top, your sailboat will sail upwind. To help navigate, click on the map with your trackball. Scroll your mouse to zoom in or out on the map. Relaxing sailing experience. Discover Akalana Islands. Explore Akalana Islands, an idyllic Caribbean location offering sunset sailing around bays and open seas. Learn the basics of sailing, including steering and speed management (how to sail upwind and downwind).

Beginners friendly! No prior experience required! Features Your own small interactive sailboat. Steer and control the sails with simple keyboard controls. An idyllic Caribbean location to explore. Look around using your mouse or change camera position for a better view. Immersive audio with sailing and ocean sounds. Simple, but realistic sailing mechanics. To sail upwind, you need to zig-zag and tack, like in real life. An optional voice-over instructor to give you some

Q: start form with user control i have a question. i want to start a form with a user control in the Main form start form i have placed a placeholder and added a grid. the user control is added to the placeholder. the problem is that when i start the form, it says that it cannot find the user control, i used exact same name as in the xaml page what am i missing? A: First you should in your main form in design view make sure that the placeholder is associated to the same name value as in xaml file. After that remove your user control form from the xaml file and write it programmatically. Q: SQL Change answer if column values are not at beginning I have a table of data, columns are patientid,diagnosis1,diagnosis2,diagnosis3 and other columns Now i want to change the diagnosis 1... diagnosis 4 if the patientid is not at the top. What would be the best way of doing this? A: If you don't want to add a where clause then you would have to do a group by: SELECT disease1, disease2, disease3, patientid FROM table GROUP BY patientid If you want a general solution to this requirement you will have to add the condition in the select statement then. 1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to an optical information recording/reproducing apparatus, an objective lens driver and a tracking control method.

Reflection: Explore Akalana Islands with Video: Our clientsOculus Rift / Steam:CHIAPAS, Mexico - Gunfire has again spread anxiety in this city of 400,000, where the mayor is describing a civil war and a mass exodus of migrants fleeing violence in other parts of Mexico. An ambush on Thursday struck the bus station in the city of Chilapa, where hundreds of migrants from the nearby state of Chiapas traveled each day to cross into the United States. The highway leading to the border has been closed by Mexican authorities to discourage those migrants trying to cross into the U.S. At least two others were killed in Chilapa and the nearby state of Oaxaca, despite the crackdown on the border by the government of President Enrique Pena Nieto, who claims "zero tolerance" for those migrants entering Mexico illegally. The bus station was the target of a shootout between criminals and the Mexican military, but those fleeing the violence and seeking to enter the U.S. were also targeted. The bus station is 100 yards from the Rio Grande river, which U.S. officials say is a major pathway for Mexican migrants to the U.S. "(Thursday's shooting) was very strange," said an immigration lawyer here who was prevented by police from talking to journalists, but who said that the shooting on Friday was in a different area, near the bus station. "I heard that two buses were stolen. I've been waiting for a bus to cross the border for two months. Now I'm going to wait even longer." Since May, thousands of people have traveled on foot or by horseback in the area of the border between Chiapas and Oaxaca, where the hot, humid sun makes the long trek through territory controlled by drug gangs and leftist insurgents a grim and sometimes fatal proposition. On Friday, another bus carrying 200 migrants stopped on the highway before it reached the town of Ocuilan. Reports of an attempted assassination in Oaxaca were reported by Mexican media, but were not confirmed by government officials. Four people were killed in Mexico on Saturday, including the daughter of an executive of a company that transports livestock. A man set himself ablaze as protesters marched through the city of Guerrero to denounce the poverty and other social conditions in the country. Two other men were killed by a police officer in Salina Cruz, another city in
