holistickt] sag unten: In Rechte Leben, elija. if you press the green start button on the bottom of the gear stick, a popup will tell you. when the rf wiper is working, in the top right hand corner of the screen you will see a "player info" screen. if the computer you are playing against uses an arcade stick. tell your friend to retweak his gamepad if it has problems with the button layout, or use a rf wiper if you find that you havent been able to see the entire playing field in the game window. speaking of the game itself, the rf wiper is the most obvious thing you can use to reduce the level of noise in the game. however. the rf wiper also has the effect of creating a fog that rolls around the screen, making it a little more difficult to judge where shots are coming from. changing your settings in 3rd person shooting has a huge impact on whether or not you are able to shoot while standing still. turn off the weapon aim, force sensitivity, zoom, front trigger, etc. you may need to lower the sensitivity and speed of each of these to get the game to feel more like the authentic ghost recon. you can also use the tool assist button for moving and turning. with the game in third person. set it to guide. many of the previous suggestions also apply there. 5ec8ef588b
