The city of Indian Harbour Beach already has several public parking spots for people who park in the public lots. But one homeowner living near Indian Harbour beach is warning residents of the dangers of parking in front of someone's house. "We've had a problem here for a while. We have a lot of neighbors that park in the front of people's homes," resident Bobby Gosby said. According to Gosby, residents have been leaving their cars in the front of their homes along North 4th Avenue, but when they return to their cars, their valuables have been stolen. "On the street, where we live, we have a lot of kids running around. We had to put up some parking signs to tell people you can't park here," said Gosby. Gosby told News 6 that the city doesn't have the manpower to patrol the streets. "We feel like the police don't do much. They won't come to a lot of the problems. We don't want to be violent, but we do want to protect our homes," he said. According to Gosby, he's been working with other residents to try and curb the problem, but so far nothing has
